

GOODWIN ON TOLOSTOL.

The editor of the Salt Lake Tribune puts the writer of Kreutz's Sonata in a very ridiculous light before the public in the following:

"This is a melancholy book. It makes men who reverence women sorry. It is the work of a depraved soul; of a man who must be, down deep, the victim of a hereditary superstitious fear; at the same time a natural tyrant; at the same time so burned up with jealousy as to be, in his heart at least, a fiend. We are told that he has a wife, and that he is the father of a whole brood of children. If this is true, then those children are liable to be lunatics, because this book proves that their father at least never had the first conception of honest marriage; never realized in the least the deathless tie which comes through a real marriage; that he has been a passion-tossed fool from the start, only curbed by some superstitious fear; that he has been a plague to himself and all who have been near him. It is a lasting pity that an edict against the circulation of his book was issued by the Government of the United States, because that awakened the curiosity of thousands, and the result will be that millions will read the book who never would have read it except for that. It is illogical; it is inconsistent; it is in the main inhuman; it is the work of a mind, which, if materialized, would be that of a devil, held to the earth by the iron chain of a monk. It is altogether a baneful book; it is altogether a shame that it was published; it is a misfortune to the world that it is or ever will be read, for it lowers men and women to the grade of mere animal; it takes from the most sacred instincts of the human heart their sanctity; it is altogether depraved, and stands out the deformed creation of a perturbed and deformed soul.

For Sweet Charity.

An insane girl in New York took all her sister's earnings, amounting to $740, and gave it to the St. Rocco Society as a charitable offering. As soon as the money was secured the members were notified and it was concluded to celebrate the great event with fireworks and brass bands, thereby squandering the larger part of it. When the loss was discovered by the girl's sister she went immediately to the Society and demanded the amount in full, proving at the same time that the girl was insane and actuated by no charitable motive to thus heedlessly give the money she had been saving for the insane girl's support. The priests refused to give it up, stating that most of it had been spent, and that money once given for such a purpose could not be recalled. Such conduct on their part is unjust, as it appears that she needed the money more than they did, and we all know that charity begins at home.

The money market of New York City is in a fearful state. We are afraid that they will not push by the next month without a more or less serious panic. With every fresh fear those who have money grow more panicky and lock it up tighter. If this continue for a week or so, there will come a time when some people who must have money or fail will have to fail. This is the time when the Government should call in all the bonds possible and distribute the money, and when it should issue silver treasury notes just as fast as the law will permit. Silver legislation did not come one moment too soon. Had it been postponed another year there would have been a universal crash all over the East.

THE MANHATTAN
Life Insurance Co.,
OF NEW YORK.

ASSETS - - $12,000,000.

BETTER THAN A GOVERNMENT BOND.

The MANHATTAN for a limited period will offer the residents of Nevada a Bond Combining Insurance and investment that is in reach of all and which every healthy able-bodied man in the State should possess—for the protection of himself and family.

In explanation read what follows: Suppose a special agent of the U. S. Treasury Department should call on you today and say:

The Government would like to sell you bonds for any amount between $1,000 and $30,000 and if it is not convenient for you to make the investment at once, we will allow you to pay for the bonds in Ten Equal Annual Installments.

And, suppose, in addition to this, the Government, wishing to make this the most desirable investment in the world, should stipulate in the bond, not only to pay them at the end of the term, but in case of your previous death, to pay them to your family and AT THE SAME TIME RELEASE YOUR FAMILY FROM PAYING ANY FURTHER MONEY.

Would you not at once close with such an offer? And yet this is practically what the Manhattan Life Insurance Company, of New York has done and is doing.
